Be More Dog is the inspiring story of how one dog with terminal cancer led his people on a spiritual journey that turned their life around and opened their eyes to the importance of living in the Now.

When their soul dog Jerry lost a leg to cancer, Jim Nelson and Rene Agredano sold their home, their business, and nearly everything they owned to enjoy their final days traveling together as a pack in a new RV. Given just months to live, Jerry led his people around the country for two years.

Be More Dog is more than a memoir about a three-legged dog on an epic road trip. It is a mantra to live by, and this book is the guide.

Through his actions and attitude in the face of adversity, Jerry shows Jim and Rene how important it is to live in the now—to persevere when the going gets tough, to never give up, and that every day is a great day, no matter what life throws your way.

As Seen on Public Television

Featuring Jerry's story, as seen in "Nature: Why We Love Cats and Dogs" which first aired on PBS in 2009. Get a peek behind the scenes as Jerry stars in this insightful documentary defining the dynamic relationships people develop with their beloved animals.

FINDING PURPOSE

Location independent entrepreneurs since 2007, Jim and Rene turned their passion into a full-time labor of love after their dog lost a leg to cancer, when they traveled the country in an RV for two years. That journey inspired them to create Tripawds, now the largest online support community for amputee pets and their people.

SERVING OTHERS

They manage 1,500+ three legged pet blogs and many free resources at tripawds.com. Their 501c3 Tripawds Foundation provides assistance programs at tripawds.org. The nomadic couple shares lifestyle design tips for new RVers at liveworkdream.com.

LIVING FULFILLED

Jim and Rene live life to the fullest by applying the lessons they learned on the road with Jerry:

- Resilience
- Lovingkindness
- Acceptance
- Awareness
- Perseverance
- Gratitude
